GENERAL CONSTRUCTION INDUCTION (WHITE CARD)

This course brochure will inform and guide you through the Master Builders General Construction Induction training course, also known as the White Card. Please read the following information carefully to help you understand all the course requirements and assessments to ensure that it is suitable for your needs.

ABOUT US

Master Builders Association of NSW is a Registered Training Organisation (RTO 6163) registered by the Australian Skills Quality Authority. Master Builders offers nationally recognised qualifications and courses across New South Wales which meet endorsed industry standards. Pathways to qualifications include full training and assessment, assessment towards Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL), gap training and Continuous Professional Development (CPD).

COURSE OVERVIEW

The General Construction Induction course is a mandatory entry level program for the building and construction industry. The course focuses on how to work safely and effectively on a job site or construction environment.

Suitable candidates for this course are those looking to work in the construction industry in NSW or are required to enter a construction work site as part of their existing or potential job role.

LOCATION AND DURATION

The course is delivered over 6 hours. Visit <http://skillassessment.com.au/courses> for the latest course information.

Courses are run at the Master Builders Education Centre in Baulkham Hills or at one of our regional offices.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

There are no educational entry requirements for this course however participants must:

- Be at least 15 years of age
- Be proficient in spoken and written English, as SafeWork NSW requires that assessment is undertaken in English
- Provide 100 points of original identification on the day of training

COURSE MATERIALS

Participants are not required to bring any materials or purchase specific books to complete this course. A pen and notepad for individual note taking is recommended. Master Builders will provide all course materials, resources and access to PPE (if required) on the training day.

NATIONALLY RECOGNISED TRAINING

Participants who successfully complete this nationally recognised unit of competency, will be issued a Statement of Attainment for:

- CPCCWHS1001 Prepare to Work Safely in the Construction Industry

COURSE DELIVERY AND ASSESSMENT

This unit of competency covers the following topics:

- Work Health and Safety legislation
- Hazards, Risks and Control Measures
- Communication and Reporting
- Incident response

This course is delivered and assessed face-to-face in a classroom with:

- Written assessments including a knowledge questionnaire consisting of short answer questions to be completed individually by the participant to obtain evidence of underpinning knowledge required.
- Practical assessment conducted one-on-one or in a small group. Where a small group is assessed, the assessor will ensure all aspects of assessment are clearly assessed for each participant in the group (this may involve tasks being completed more than once to ensure each participant is competent).
- Participants will also be assessed on their observable behaviour including oral questions to assess technical criteria relevant to techniques required for this unit of competency.

Participants are provided with a briefing of what is required to successfully complete the assessment; to ensure they are completely aware of the conduct of assessment as well as the required skills, knowledge and behaviour the assessor is looking for within the assessment.

Participants are offered multiple opportunities to demonstrate knowledge and skills throughout the program. At the completion of all the assessment tasks the participant will be provided feedback on their abilities and responses.

CERTIFICATION

If a participant is assessed as 'Competent' in this unit of competency, they will progress to the Master Builders certification process for the Statement of Attainment of CPCCWHS1001 - Prepare to work safely in the construction industry as described in the Participant Handbook.

On successfully completing all assessments, participants will receive a Statement of Training from a Master Builders authorised RTO assessor. This acts as an interim White Card and is recognised as current for 60 days from the course date. Within this time, SafeWork NSW will issue the General Construction Induction (White Card) by post directly to the participant.

If a participant is assessed as 'Not Yet Competent' in this unit of competency they will not receive a Statement of Training, a Statement of Attainment or the White Card. They are invited to re-enroll into the course again any time, at the full course fee.

FEES AND CHARGES

Information about Master Builders fees, charges, refunds and withdrawals is provided in the Participant Handbook, which is available on our website. The fee for this one day course is:

- $110 per person for Master Builder's Members
- $143 per person for Non-Members
